

Change a life like Sara's.

"When the doctors said three babies, life was already very difficult. My husband died and I was sick and knew I couldn't feed them. Forever Angels helped me. They gave milk when the babies were small and now they are bigger. I am happy to have a business now. It means I can care for my own children."

Sara gave birth to triplets after already having four children at 26 years of age. Without breast milk her triplets quickly became malnourished. After providing formula milk, training and a business, she is now doing extremely well.

Change a life like Regina's.

"Life was very hard when my daughter passed away. I began caring for her baby girl Judith, but we had no home and had to find money for rent and food. Having been set up a business to sell things in our village, helps a lot. It's amazing."

Forever Angels provided nutrition for Judith, setup a small business for Regina and build a house for the family. The family now has a safe home, and an ongoing income so they can live independently.
